About the State

J. P. Rock and his brother, John, caught the past season in South Wheelock 22 foxes, 20 skunks and eight coons.

The young sons of Fred Jewett of North Duxbury anticipate engaging in the show business, as they now have on exhibition a tame deer, a lynx, a fox, a coon, a skunk and other curiosities.

The tale and asbestos mines in Reading were opened November 16 with ap-per and dance and speeches. One mine is located near the village of Hammond-ville and there is a deposit of tale and asbestos a short distance from it. The two mines will be worked by the same company. An order for 20 carloads of tale recently received could not be filled, but within two weeks the mines will be in active operation.

Interesting Facts About Rutland.

In connection with the proposed anniversary celebration September 7, 1911, when Rutland will be 150 years old, a few facts concerning the town will be of interest—

Rutland was chartered as a town September 7, 1761, by Benjamin Waterbury, governor of the province of New Hampshire, under George III, and was one of the 60 or more townships granted on the west side of the Connecticut river during that year.

On September 30, 1769, there was a real estate transaction which was directed to exert a large influence upon the history of the town of Rutland, when Col. James Mearns of Manchester made his first purchase in Rutland, consisting of 7,000 acres, and one-seventh of the entire township. Col. Mearns, the first white man that ever settled in Rutland, came with his family and located near the falls at Center Rutland in March, 1770.

For many years Rutland was a frontier town, and was subject to numerous disturbances and annoyances incident to its location. A military route was constituted in 1759, from Charlestown, N. H., to Crown Point, N. Y., crossing either creek at Center Rutland. In 1780, the whole number of settlers in Vermont did not exceed 300 persons, and when the first complete census of the state was taken in 1791, there were 7,000 persons.

Owing to the favorable location and natural advantages, Rutland soon became an important point for the establishing of manufacturing and mercantile enterprises, and was early provided with transportation facilities. Prior to the advent of the railroads in 1849, the town was an important staging point, stages connecting there for Boston, Troy, Montreal and other places upon the leading stage routes. The legislature met in Rutland in the years of 1784, 1786, 1792, 1794, 1797 and 1804.

The first church was organized in Rutland on October 20, 1773, and a committee appointed by the town provided a preacher. On November 1, 1843, the Champlain and Connecticut River railroad was chartered, and on November 6, 1847, the name was changed to Rutland and Burlington Railroad company.
Later the corporation was reorganized under the name of Rutland Railroad company.

The city of Rutland was incorporated November 19, 1892. It comprises the village of Rutland, which was chartered in 1847, and which the city succeeds, together with about as much more territory taken from the town of Rutland outside the village limits. It contains about 8 1/2 square miles, and the greatest distances are north and south, 3-1-10 miles, and east and west, 3-4-10 miles.

Rutland is appropriately termed "The Marble City," having extensive marble and finishing shops within the city limits.
Besides the marble industry, Rutland also contains a large number of other industries and to-day ranks as one of the leading cities in the state.

"I was Crippled, could hardly walk and had to Crawl down stairs at times on my hands and knees. My doctor told me I had an acute attack of inflammatory rheumatism. I was in the hospital for weeks, but was scarcely able to walk when I left it. I read about

Dr. Miles' Nerve

bought a bottle and began to get better from the start, and for the past six months I have had scarcely any pain and am able to walk as well as ever." J. H. SANDERS, P. O. box 5, Rockaway, N. J.

Five medicines are of any benefit for rheumatism, but Mr. Sanders tells plainly what Dr. Miles' Restellative Nerve did for it. One ounce of salicylate of soda added to one bottle of Nerve makes an excellent remedy for rheumatism, which is now known to be a nervous disease and therefore subject to the influence of a medicine that acts through the nerves, as does

Dr. Miles' Nerve

Sufferers from rheumatism seldom fail to find relief in the use of Dr. Miles' Nerve, with salicylate of soda.

Sold under a guarantee that assures the return of the price of the first bottle if it fails to benefit. At all Druggists.

A $2 EMBEZZLEMENT.

Charged That a Youth Took It When Told to Get Bill Changed.

Burlington, Dec. 9.—Deputy Sheriff Ravlin placed an 18-year-old boy named Bouchette in jail yesterday morning on the charge of embezzling a $2 bill from Arthur Pratt. He is said to have taken the bill from Pratt to get it changed and he did not return with the money.

A man bearing the strange name of Vancroynest was tried on the charge of intoxication in city court yesterday morning. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 30 days in jail. Asked to disclose, he promptly told the court where he got his liquor, but his language was so mixed up that no human intelligence could comprehend what he was saying, and the state's attorney and court gave it up as a bad job. As nearly as could be ascertained the man got his booze at a saloon on Main street, but he stuck to it that it was on the north side, and so far as known no licensee is yet doing business on that side.

ALL QUIET IN TORONTO.

Rioters Arraigned and Pay-as-you-Enter Cars Runt Unmolested.

Toronto, Ont., Dec. 9.—Operation of the newly installed pay-as-you-enter cars of the Toronto Street Railway company was continued yesterday without further interference on the part of those who are said to object to the type of cars used.

Eight persons were arraigned yesterday for alleged participation in Wednesday night's disturbance, charged with disorderly conduct. No estimate of the damage done has been made, but the railway officials stated that it resulted largely from glass broken in many cars.

Ends Winter's Troubles.

To many, winter is a season of trouble.
The frost-bitten toes and fingers, chapped hands and lips, chilblains, cold

But such troubles fly before Buckle's Arnica Salve. A trial convinces.
